EDITOR'S LETTER

One of the nicest things about knitting is that it can be whatever you need it to be!

Knitting means something a little bit different to each and every knitter. When we first start to knit, it gives us a wonderful feeling of accomplishment and pride. Perhaps we desire approval from our teacher, or want to make something to give to someone that is a reflection of us, rather than a store-bought gift.

After learning a little more about knitting, we realize how much we learn about ourselves by knitting. Can we laugh at our mistakes? Do we thrive on color stimulation? Is there always a good reason to start another project even if we already have three other UFOs (unfinished objects)? Are we capable of prevaricating to our families about why we need more yarn and needles?

In putting together this magazine, the staff and I try to take all of your feelings about knitting into consideration and choose designs and articles that you will enjoy. We would love to hear what you would like to see included in Creative Knitting, what you found worthwhile in the past, about which techniques you want to know more, and what things you wish we didn't bother including.

We'd like to make Creative Knitting what you need it to be!

The Absolute Best Way to Learn How to Knit

With Leslie Solomon

Every teacher thinks her preferred method is the best way to knit, so Leslie is making a pretty big claim here. However, she does show a different way to hold the yarn and needles which seems to give good results. Every level of knitter will get something from this video. Leslie takes the time to explain each step in exquisite detail, with careful scripting to avoid the annoying "ums" and "ahs" that are so much a part of many how-to videos. Beyond-the-basics knitters may want to practice her methods as an alternative to their current practices, and knitting teachers can learn a thing or two from watching this experienced teacher at work.

The production quality of this DVD is superb, easily navigable, with clear closeups of hands and yarn, seen from the knitter's point of view. Indeed, the focus is almost completely on the hands. We only see Leslie's face during the introductory sections; when she stands before walls full of beautifully colored and textured yarn. It's enough to get anyone excited about knitting! The Absolute Best Way to Learn How to Knit ($29.95) is available online and at retail locations nationwide. A Knitter's Companion: Knitting Essentials Volumes 1 and 2

With Lucy Neatby

Canadian Lucy Neatby is known for her colorful designs and her colorful persona, both of which you can glimpse in her new videos. In these two volumes, Lucy shares many of the tips and techniques that she uses in her own knitting career, and that she has taught in workshops on both sides of the Atlantic. Instead of standard-fare how-to-knit content, Lucy offers a menu of options from cast-on and bind-off methods to finishing basics, two-handed techniques, steeks and more. Knitters of all levels will benefit from watching Lucy at work. Even experienced knitters will pick up tricks from this outside-the-box thinker.

I have long believed that understanding the structure of knit fabric is the key to being an excellent knitter, and Lucy must agree. Her descriptions of "contented stitches" and how to form them ensure that each knit stitch lies even and is straightly aligned with its mates. These are concepts that can't be described adequately in a book; video is the perfect forum for them.

Most of the instructional shots are from a knitter's-eye-view. While I would have preferred more clearly-marked chapters and better lighting, the instructions were clear and easy to follow. Lucy's British accent is a delight to listen to, and the gallery of wittily colorful designs at the end is truly inspirational. If you don't need a "learn to knit" DVD, but want a "learn more options for my knitting" DVD, these are the ones for you. Knitting Essentials 1 and 2 (about $29) are available at yarn shops and at www.lucyneatby.com.

I Can't Believe I'm Knitting

With Melissa Leapman

In this learn-to-knit DVD based on the popular Leisure Arts leaflet, designer and teacher Melissa Leapman covers the basics you need to know to go from novice to confident knitter. Her deliberate speech and calming manner are just right for a beginning knitter. The set is also just right—it looks home-like, but is brightly lit and uncluttered enough to not distract from the viewer's focus on the teacher. Close-up shots of hands are unshadowed and easy to see.

The video is broken down into easily understandable parts: lessons, troubleshooting, knit necessities, and projects. The projects can be viewed as a knit-along, or if you are more confident, just click on the "pattern" portion and knit by yourself. I especially liked the A to Z index, which makes it easy to find the section you want without wandering around sub-menus. Leisure Arts has been in the craft yarn business a long time, and they know their customers. In this case, they've produced a video perfect for the beginning knitter. I Can't Believe I'm Knitting ($19.95) is available online and in yarn shops and craft stores nationwide.

Knit 2 Together

By Tracy Ullman and Mel Clark
($27.50, Stewart, Tabori & Chang, 2006, 168 pages)

Comedienne Tracy Ullman is a passionate knitter. Who knew? In Knit 2 Together, she teams up with her friend, knitwear designer Mel Clark, to present a saucy collection of knits. From basics (baby sweater, beginner's hat) to advanced (two-piece tailored suit, Fair Isle vest), there's something here for everyone. There's plenty of whimsy, too, as evidenced by the two-person cover sweater (pattern included).

The layout of the book is exceptionally open and bright. The back section covers knitting basics, with clear photographs illustrating techniques. Sidebars are liberally sprinkled throughout, offering tips for beginners and amusing anecdotes. You'll learn about Tracy's obsession with knitting, and about native New Zealander Mel's background in knitwear design. Ever thought of knitting a quiver? Know how yarn is like heroin? You'll have to read the book to find out!

Knitting Loves Crochet

By Candi Jensen
($18.95, Storey Publishing, 2006)

Prolific designer Candi Jensen isn't afraid to speak up for the benefits of both knitting and crochet. In Knitting Loves Crochet, she pairs the best of both worlds for 22 stylish designs. These up-to-date hybrid designs use what crochet does best (embellishments and edgings) together with the benefits of knit fabric (excellent drape and comfort) for stunning effect. Charming colorful pictures, clear illustrations and line-by-line instructions make the patterns especially easy to follow.

Those of us who are already bi-textural will get started right away on our favorite patterns, but even those who are only knitters (so far) will be tempted to learn crochet. Crocheters will want to learn to knit. That's not a problem, because those willing to take a moment to check the glossary will find each type of stitch illustrated in detail.

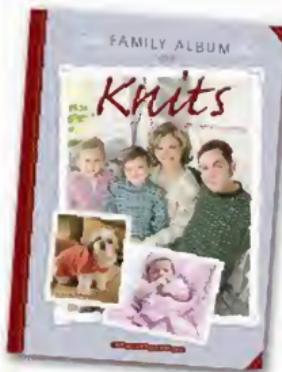

Family Album of Knits

Edited by Bobbie Matea
($24.95 House of White Birches, 176 pages)

It can be a challenge to find a single book with patterns for the whole family, but Family Album of Knits fills that niche. The 47 projects in this book really do cover everyone, including Baby, Sister, Brother, Mom, Dad and Fido. Perhaps most importantly, you'll find a good selection of sweaters for that hard-to-please, school-age child. Accessories and home decor items round out the picture.

All the projects use readily-available Plymouth Yarns, but information is provided so that you can make appropriate substitutions if necessary. The general information section is well-illustrated, complete and easy to read. The editors are the same of the same folks who work on Creative Knitting, so if you like this magazine, you'll love Family Album of Knits.

Kitchener Stitch Unraveled

THE ORIGIN OF KITCHENER STITCH IS UNDER DEBATE. THE IMPORTANT THING IS THAT THIS IS ONE COOL KNITTING TECHNIQUE.

It lets us seamlessly graft one set of live knit stitches to another, producing a perfect new row of knit stitches. We most often think of this "Kitchenering" in terms of closing the toes of socks as well as a tricky technique best avoided by all but the adventurous knitter. Pshaw to that!!

Polishing Your Technique

Remember the mantra for the duplicate stitch: "go under two threads, cross to the other side and go down where you came out ..."? The Kitchener stitch is identical. Your perspective is different in this case since you're dealing with live stitches.

The instructions on page 72 show you how to work Kitchener stitch with stitches still perched on needles, the needles parallel to each other such as when closing the toe of a sock.

Fig. 1 introduces an alternative point of view. Here the stitches are not on needles and are facing each other nose-to-nose.

Looking at this diagram, you can see how the grafting strand is weaving in the exact route as the duplicate stitch. Rather than lying on top of existing stitches, though, the new row of stitches is filling in a gap.

Taking the Leap & Filling the Void

This exercise will take all the mystery from this technique and give you some knitting clutzpah. With a smooth, light- or medium-color yarn, cast on 20 stitches and knit a four-inch swatch. Dampen the swatch and let it dry, setting the stitches and lowering your anxiety level. Lay your swatch flat on a table (book, pillow, big dog). This will make things much easier all around.

Cut one thread of one stitch in the middle of your swatch. Breathe! Carefully pull out four stitches on either side of the cut thread, a half stitch at a time, using a blunt tapestry or yarn needle. You are just easing out the single strand that makes up the stitches of one row. This opening has live stitches across the top and bottom with a short strand of yarn emerging from each corner. Adjust the opening so that these strands are coming toward the right side. (Photo 1)

Thread an 8-inch strand of a contrasting color yarn into your tapestry needle. Beginning several stitches to the right of the opening, work duplicate stitch until your needle comes up in the same stitch from which the tail is coming. From this point, keep on stitching just as if you were working duplicate stitch: "across to the opposite stitch, down where you last came out, under two threads and up in the next stitch. Repeat from *," trying to keep the new stitches the same size as their neighbors. Eventually you'll work into the stitch on the left edge of the opening where the other tail is. Continue with several duplicate stitches and pat yourself on the back! (Photo 2)

Quick Fixes

Now that you know how to fill in part of a row, let's imagine how you can apply this to your everyday knitting.

Bumps and bruises in your knitting, like holes and twisted or misplaced stitches, can easily be repaired by removing a few stitches on either side of the blemish and replacing them just as you did above, being sure to reinforce the neighboring stitches with a few duplicate stitches.

Don't have anymore of the same yarn? Avoid this in the future by making a yarn butterfly that's stitched to a seam. The extra yarn, laundered along with the sweater, will be ready and waiting for emergencies. In a pinch, long tails buried in your work can do the trick.

If you can't fix the flaw flawlessly, then flaunt it. Use a contrasting-color yarn to make a creative repair using a simple design such as that charted in Fig. 2, the appropriate stitches "Kitchenered," the flanking stitches duplicate stitched. Duplicate stitch the same motif elsewhere in your work to make it look deliberate.

Surgical Afterthoughts

Knit afterthoughts are, in this case, alterations to the length of sweater bodies and sleeves or even socks. Both shortening and lengthening involve grafting of live stitches at the surgical site.

To shorten a piece, open the side seams beyond the length you want to remove. Snip a stitch in the middle of the 2nd or 3rd row above the ribbing and carefully ease out the stitches towards each edge until the ribbing falls away. One tail is attached to each piece. Set the ribbing aside and unravel the main piece by the amount you want to remove. Cut a tall about three times its width. Before you rejoin the two pieces, check for any discrepancy between the stitch counts caused by shaping in the section you removed. Working with the long tail, stitch into the edge stitch of the ribbed section, back into the original selvage stitch then back into the ribbed section. (Photo 3)

Continue with Kitchener stitch across the row, spacing necessary increases or decreases evenly. For decreases, insert the tapestry needle into the next two stitches, treating them as one and work the stitch pair in the usual way. To increase, work the equivalent of knitting into the stitch below.

Lengthening an item proceeds basically the same as shortening. You'll be inserting fabric in the opening, grafting both ends of the insertion to the main body. Since you need live stitches for grafting, use a provisional cast on for your insertion (see Provisional Cast-On Technique on page 22). Knit the insertion, ending with five stitches. Graft these to the top section, unravel the cast on, and graft those stitches to the bottom section. No extra yarn? Insert a stripe or band of a contrasting color or texture.

Non-Stockinette Kitchenering

Where there's a stitch, there's a way. For reverse stockinette, just turn your work to the stockinette side and graft as usual. Garter stitch fabric alternates smooth knit rows with bumpy purl rows. Both pieces to be joined should end with the same flavor row on the same side, right or wrong side. With the "bumpy" rows facing you, your usual kitchenering technique provides the intervening smooth knit row. (Photo 4)

Photo 4

Being able to replicate a purl stitch is the best way to tackle knit/purl fabric. The mantra is reversed: "across to the opposite stitch, up where you last came out, over two stitches and down into the next stitch. Repeat from *," alternating knit and purl grafting as needed. (Photo 5)

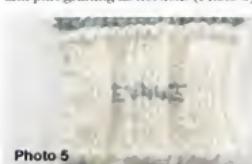

Photo 5

It's tempting to use Kitchener stitch to make an invisible shoulder seam. Caution! Without the stabilizing influence of a seam, this shoulder can stretch from here to Venus. Just enjoy the wonders of this technique where it can produce miracles. ■

Want Some Good News?

CHECK OUT OUR LATEST EDITION OF TOWN SQUARE! HERE'S YOUR CHANCE TO SAMPLE IT FREE!

In the last issue of Creative Knitting, we shared news about Town Square—our brand-new magazine and the first and only one devoted to all that's great about small towns and the people who live there.

"Thank you for starting this wonderful magazine!" writes Jeanne Ahlers of Leonard, N.D.

"I'd really like to subscribe," adds Christine Yoder of Rockport, Texas. "I often feel so hopeless about our world after listening to the news. It would be SO GOOD to read some positive stories about people. Please let me know how I can subscribe and support what I believe is a truly worthwhile endeavor."

Christine and Jeanne, we're glad to help!

You can become a Charter Subscriber to Town Square by filling out and sending in the order blank to the right. Or if you're in a hurry, just visit our Web site at TownSquareMagazine.com. Either way, you'll enjoy a lot of wonderful reading.

How can we make such a strong offer for something this new? Because this magazine is so different, we're sure you're going to love it! In every issue of Town Square, you'll find stories with so much heart they'll put a tear in your eye, a lump in your throat or make you laugh out loud.

You'll smile and shake your head when you read the regular department, Only in a Small Town! You'll meet colorful characters like Kathy Patrick, an energetic cosmologist who left behind the big city to start a unique business in a small Texas town.

You'll learn about Lehman's, a family-owned hardware store in tiny Kidron, Ohio, that sells goods to an Amish population—and Hollywood production crews.

In smaller communities, you see, neighbors look out for each other. They share with one another. And they absolutely don't mind rolling up their sleeves to help make their town a better place for everyone to live.

But small-town life isn't all work!

There are so many fun events and activities to enjoy in smaller communities, that it's often difficult to get around to them all. You'll read and enjoy stories about colorful community festivals and firemen's picnics. You'll even hear about a Texas fellow who had his "15 minutes of fame" as a movie extra, sharing the screen with Ned Beatty.

The fun's all here in Town Square, a magazine that's a community in itself because it's written by its readers—people a lot like you, from red towns across North America!

In every issue, you'll get a load of luscious down-home recipes you'll love to try. There are also suggestions on bringing color into your home with container gardens... handyman hints that'll save you time and money... and even tips on how to invite more colorful songbirds to your backyard.

So, why not join the fun? There's plenty to be found in every issue of Town Square... the magazine for those who live in small towns, or yearn to return.

Rows 2 and 4: K2, purl to last 2 sts, k2.

Row 3: K2, *yo, k2tog; rep from * to last 2 sts, k2.

Rep Rows 1-4 for pat.

Pattern Notes

The Naturally Biased Scarf has 3 sections. The center section combines yarn overs with right and left slanting dec to produce a lacy vertical pat. See Skill Booster article below for more on this. The 2 end sections illustrate the biased, or diagonal, fabric that results when dec with the same slant are stacked on top of each other row after row.

Note that the yo is worked before the dec in Bias Pat 1, and after the dec in Bias Pat 2.

Use Cable Cast On (see Knitting Class, page 74) throughout.

Work in Bias Pat 2 for 96 rows or until this section measures 20 inches along slanting edge.

SKILL BOOSTER

By BETH WHITESIDE

Show Your Bias!

As knitters we seem predisposed to knit scarves and shawls and garments widthwise, in horizontal rows. The knitting mimics the structure of woven cloth, with horizontal weft threads under and over vertical warp threads. What happens if we take this construction and rotate it 45 degrees? We see diagonal lines, and diagonal lines grab the eye, creating an illusion of movement which flatters the figure.

Bias is an oblique or diagonal line of direction across the fabric. In knitting we can create such lines with color, or patterns of knits and purls across the surface of our work. We can also use increases and decreases to make the fabric itself bias as in the Naturally Biased Scarf, page 48.

be created by adding a stitch to one end of your work, and taking one away at the other end. Photo A shows a simple Stockinette stitch swatch with a yarn-over increase worked between the first and second stitch, and a knit-2-together decrease worked 3 stitches from the end on all right-side rows. The columns of stitches remain vertical, but the stacked increases on the right side and decreases on the left cause the fabric to slant to the right. Photo B shows the reverse swatch, with slip, slip, knit decreases stacked at the beginning of the work and yarn-over increases at the end. This swatch slants diagonally to the left.

Notice the distinct visual line created by stacking the k2tog and ssk. Such lines are also seen in the classic raglan sweater, where they are worked from armpits to neck on either side of front and back. They are also used when creating the typical trapezoid sleeve shape. The natural slant of the decreases, rightward for k2tog and leftward for ssk, serve the functional purposes of narrowing or widening the garment pieces while adding decorative touches and visual interest.

Decreases Are Biased

Bias can also be achieved by taking advantage of this natural slant of decreases. Single decreases turn two stitches into one by putting one on top of the other. Knitting 2 stitches together puts the first stitch the needle entered, the one to the left, on top of the second stitch, the one on the right (Fig 1). As they lie around the new stitch, both new stitches slant somewhat, but the one on top is the one we see and it points up to the right. For this reason, k2tog is referred to as a right-slanting decrease.

The slipped stitches are slipped knitwise, which turns them so that the right leg of the loop sits in back instead of in front, as it usually does. The two turned stitches are then knit together through their back legs, retaining their open knit-stitch character. If the stitches are slipped purwise then knit through the back, the 2 legs of each stitch will cross each other. Remember, ssk's are not lady-like; they are supposed to sit with their legs open! See Slip, Slip, Knit (ssk) on page 75.

Pattern Bias

Knitters can also create stitch patterns on the bias, where the columns of stitches travel diagonally across the fabric. In Photos C and D yarn-over increases are paired with slanting decreases on right-side rows; wrong-side rows are purled. The decreases are stacked on top of each other throughout the fabric, their slant never counterbalanced. The columns of stitches in Photo C slant to the right because they are worked in a yarn over, k2tog repeated pattern. The columns of stitches in Photo D slant to the left because they are worked in an ssk, yarn over repeated pattern. This stitch pattern also causes the fabric to bias, without having to add or subtract stitches.

What would happen if we combined the two patterns in Photos C and D? Photo E illustrates the resulting unlashed fabric. Notice the columns of stitches between yarn overs: the k2togs and ssk's alternate every other row in a zigzagging stitch "column."

Why should we branch out from the horizontal and knit on the bias? The human eye is drawn by the movement of diagonal lines and the drape of the resulting fabric doesn't cling or hang from the frame; that can only be flattering. Plus, they are interesting and fun to knit! ■

Kitchener Stitch

This method of weaving with two needles is used for the toes of socks and flat seams. To weave the edges together and form an unbroken line of stockinette stitch, divide all stitches evenly onto two knitting needles—one behind the other. Thread yarn into tapestry needle. Hold needles with wrong sides together and work from right to left as follows:

Step 1:

Insert tapestry needle into first stitch on front needle as to purl. Draw yarn through stitch, leaving stitch on knitting needle.

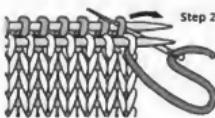

Step 1

Step 2:

Insert tapestry needle into the first stitch on the back needle as to purl.

Draw yarn through stitch and slip stitch off knitting needle.

Step 2

Step 3:

Insert tapestry needle into the next stitch on same (back) needle as to knit, leaving stitch on knitting needle.

Step 3

yarn through stitch and slip stitch off knitting needle.

Step 4

Step 5:

Insert tapestry needle into the next stitch on same (front) needle as to purl. Draw yarn through stitch, leaving stitch on knitting needle.

Step 5

Repeat Steps 2 through 5 until one stitch is left on each needle. Then repeat Steps 2 and 4. Fasten off. Woven stitches should be the same size as adjacent knitted stitches.

3-Needle Bind Off

Use this technique for seaming two edges together, such as when joining a shoulder seam. Hold the edge stitches on two separate needles with right sides together.

With a third needle, knit together a stitch from the front needle with one from the back.

Repeat, knitting a stitch from the front needle with one from the back needle once more.

Slip the first stitch over the second.

Repeat knitting a front and back pair of stitches together, then bind one off.

Working Short Rows

Wrap/Turn

This method of working the shoulder avoids holes or a staggered bound-off edge.

Work as follows:

Repeat from * until short rows are completed.

When all wraps are completed, work across row using the following method to work wrap and stitch together.

On knit side, insert tip of right needle into wrap, then into stitch and knit them together. (Photo C)

On purl side, insert tip of right needle into wrap from right side, lift it onto left needle, then purl stitch and wrap together.

Cast On

Leaving an end about an inch long for each stitch to be cast on, make a slip knot on the right needle.

Place the thumb and index finger of your left hand between the yarn ends with the long yarn end over your thumb, and the strand from the skein over your index finger. Close your other fingers over the strands to hold them against your palm. Spread your thumb and index fingers apart and draw the yarn into a 'V.'

Place the needle in front of the strand around your thumb and bring it underneath this strand. Carry the needle over and under the strand on your index finger.

Draw through loop on thumb.

Drop the loop from your thumb and draw up the strand to form a stitch on the needle.

Repeat until you have cast on the number of stitches indicated in the pattern. Remember to count the beginning slip knot as a stitch.

Cable Cast On

This type of cast on is used when adding stitches in the middle or at the end of a row.

Knit (k)

Bring yarn under and over the tip of the right needle.

usual manner, but don't remove the stitch from the left needle. Place right needle behind left needle and knit again into the back of the same stitch. Slip original stitch off left needle.

Increase (purl)

Invisible Increase (M1)

There are several ways to make or increase one stitch.

Make 1 with Left Twist (M1L)

With right needle, knit into the back of this loop.

To make this increase on the purl side, insert left needle in same manner and purl into the back of the loop.

Make 1 with Right Twist (M1R)

With right needle, knit into the front of this loop.

To make this increase on the purl side, insert left needle in same manner and purl into the front of the loop.

Make 1 with Backward Loop over the right needle

With your thumb, make a loop over the right needle.

Bind Off

Binding off (knit)

Knit first two stitches on left needle. Insert tip of left needle into first stitch worked on right needle and pull it over the second stitch and completely off the needle.

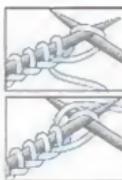

Knit the next stitch and repeat. When one stitch remains on right needle, cut yarn and draw tail through last stitch to fasten off.

Binding off (purl)

Purl first two stitches on left needle. Insert tip of left needle into first stitch worked on right needle and pull it over the second stitch and completely off the needle.

Purl the next stitch and repeat. When one stitch remains on right needle, cut yarn and draw tail through last stitch to fasten off.

Put tip of right needle through next two stitches on left needle as to purl. Purl these two stitches as one.

Slip, Slip, Knit (ssk)

needle in front of both stitches and work off needle together.

Slip, Slip, Purl (ssp)

Slip these stitches back onto left needle keeping them twisted.

Purl these two stitches together through back loops.

*GUIDELINES ONLY. The above reflect the most commonly used gauges and needle sizes for specific yarn categories.

Basic Stitches

Garter Stitch

On straight needles knit every row. When working in the round on circular or double-pointed needles, knit one round then purl one round.

Stockinette Stitch

On straight needles knit right-side rows and purl wrong-side rows. When working on circular or double-pointed needles, knit all rounds.

Reverse Stockinette Stitch

On straight needles purl right-side rows and knit wrong-side rows. On circular or double-pointed needles, purl all rounds.

Ribbing

Combines knit and purl stitches within a row to give stretch to the garment. Ribbing is most often used for the lower edge of the front and back, the cuffs and neck edge of garments.

The rib pattern is established on the first row. On subsequent rows the knit stitches are knitted and purl stitches are purled to form the ribs.

Reading Pattern Instructions

Before beginning a pattern, look through it to make sure you are familiar with the abbreviations that are used.

Some patterns may be written for more than one size. In this case the smallest size is given first and others are placed in parentheses. When only one number is given, it applies to all sizes.

You may wish to highlight the numbers for the size you are making before beginning. It is also helpful to place a self-sticking note on the pattern to mark any changes made while working the pattern.

Measuring

To measure pieces, lay them flat on a smooth surface. Take the measurement in the middle of the piece. For example, measure the length to the armhole in the center of the front or back piece, not along the outer edge where the edges tend to curve or roll.

|------------|---|----|----|----|----|----|---|----|---|----|----|-----|----|----|----|
| U.S. | 0 | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | 10 | 10½ | 11 | 13 | 15 |
| Metric(mm) | 2 | 2½ | 2½ | 3½ | 3½ | 3½ | 4 | 4½ | 5 | 5½ | 6 | 6½ | 8 | 9 | 10 |

Gauge

The single most important factor in determining the finished size of a knit item is the gauge. Although not as important for flat, one-piece items, it is important when making a clothing item that needs to fit properly.

It is important to make a stitch-gauge swatch about 4 inches square with recommended patterns and needles before beginning.

Measure the swatch. If the number of stitches and rows are fewer than indicated under "Gauge" in the pattern, your needles are too large. Try another swatch with smaller-size needles. If the number of stitches and rows are more than indicated under "Gauge" in the pattern, your needles are too small. Try another swatch with larger-size needles.

Continue to adjust needles until correct gauge is achieved.

Working From Charts

When working with more than one color in a row, sometimes a chart is provided to follow the pattern. On the chart each square represents one stitch. A key is given indicating the color or stitch represented by each color or symbol in the box.

When working in rows, odd-numbered rows are usually read from right to left, and even-numbered rows from left to right.

Odd-numbered rows represent the right side of the work and are usually knit. Even-numbered rows represent the wrong side and are usually purled.

When working in rounds, every row on the chart is a right-side row, and is read from right to left.

Use of Zero

In patterns that include various sizes, zeros are sometimes necessary. For example, k(0,1) means if you are making the smallest or middle size, you would do nothing, and if you are making the largest size, you would k1.
